Title Obtained to 370-Acre Boy Scout Camp

By WALTER F. STRANGE
Press-Record Staff Writer

Formal acquisition of Camp Sunnen, located near Potosi, Mo., was announced Thursday evening by Henry D. Karandjeff, chairman of the acquisition committee, at the September executive board meeting of the Cahokia Mound Council, Boy Scouts of America, held at the American National Bank of Granite City.

The camp is a gift of St. Louis industrialist Joseph Sunnen, who has allowed local Boy Scouts to use the camp for the past two decades. Deed to a 370-acre site has been officially conveyed to the council.

The camp is located on a 350-acre lake which is shared by the St. Louis YMCA and Sunnen Products Co.

Sonnen decided some years ago to deed the property to the camp, and negotiations including talks with the St. Louis YMCA had delayed formal action until Thursday.

Karandjeff, who was president of the Cahokia Mound Council at the time, wrote on Nov. 9, 1961 to Mr. Sunnen to report the council's needs and its interest in locating a scout camp in the Missouri Ozarks.

A series of luncheon meetings followed with Mr. Sunnen and on July 27, 1962, a camp development committee headed by G. Rollin Henn drove to Southern Missouri to meet with the owner at the property. Members of the committee making the initial trip were Robert Johnson, then council executive and Frank Barclay, Otto Klein, Kemp Harris, John X. Anderson, Henn and Karandjeff. Sunnen agreed to let the local Council use 251 acres at that time and retained title to observe the progress of the camp. Thousands of scouts have camped there over the years and Camp Sunnen has consistently received top ratings in the frequent inspections made by national scouts.

The local Boy Scout organization operated Camp Rankin, located five miles southeast of Ironton, Mo., from 1920 until the summer of 1941.

At that time, officials of the southern Missouri county where the camp was located declared the dam at Camp Rankin unsafe.

Forced to move in the middle of a five-week camping season, the scouts then used Camp Ironside, which belonged to the St. Louis Boy Scouts Council, for the remaining three weeks of the summer season of 1941.

The next summer, local scout used Pere Marquette State Park for one season and then moved into Camp Graham, located near Highway 157, where they stayed until the summer of 1945. Camp Graham has only 5 1/2 acres of land and no lake for an aquatic program.

In the summers of 1945 and 1946, local scouts operated Camp Cahokia near Litchfield, Ill. Due to a lack of water, they again were forced to look elsewhere.

From the summer of 1947 until Camp Sunnen opened in 1953, Boy Scouts from here shared facilities with several other scout councils.

The camps used during this period were Camp Lewallen, located in southern Missouri, belonging to the Southeastern Missouri Council; Camp Vandeventer located near Waterloo, Ill., owned by the former East St. Louis council; Camp Illine, summer camp of the Abraham Lincoln Council, Springfield, Ill.; and the summers of 1951 and 1952 at Camp Joy, near Carlyle, Ill., owned by the Belleville council.

Corn Milling $100,000 Reported at To Be Halted United Fund Kickoff

Corn Sweeteners, Inc. of Cedar Rapids, Ia., on Friday announced its intention to temporarily curtail its Granite City corn wet milling operation in mid-October.

The plant had been operated by Miles Laboratories, Inc., until March 31 of this year.

Corn Sweeteners at that time undertook an engineering and economic study of the plant, its facilities, product lines and future market potential to determine the feasibility of continuing the operations.

Although the efficiency of the plant has been greatly improved over the past six months, a Corn Sweeteners spokesman said, current depressed profit margins in the corn wet milling industry—coupled with higher corn prices—will, at this time, force a curtailment of most of the plant's operations.

Production of caramel color for the beverage and food industries will continue uninterrupted, as will grain merchandising operations at the plant's grain elevator.

Resumption of operations, along with plant modernization plans, will be evaluated at a later date in light of market conditions in the corn wet milling industry, the spokesman reported.

When the Marshall Division of Miles Laboratories discontinued operations here on a Friday night, the plant reopened with the first shift that Monday morning under contract with Corn Sweeteners to operate the facility for a trial period of four to six months.

Announcement of the reopening was made March 29 after a meeting in Cedar Rapids of the board of directors of Archer-Daniels-Midland Co., Decatur, parent company of Corn Sweeteners.

Martin Andreas, executive vice-president of Corn Sweeteners, had said March 20 the plant would be operated at about one-half of the previous work force during the trial period.

During the trial period, Corn Sweeteners conducted extensive engineering studies to determine the feasibility of converting the plant into a modern, efficient corn milling operation.

Miles Laboratory had announced in February that all operations at the local plant would be discontinued March 31 due to financial conditions.

Miles employed 497 hourly and salaried personnel when its decision to discontinue operations was made.

Instead of a purchase price of $8 per 100 pounds of corn syrup products several years ago, Miles had been selling such products at $3.70 in an effort to meet competition.

The Union Starch and Refining Co., operated profit-

One-third of the $310,000 goal in the industrial employees-corporations division of the Tri-Cities Area United Fund has been attained, it was announced at the campaign kickoff dinner Friday evening at Sunset Hills Country Club.

The overall goal of the 1973 UF campaign is $413,661. Solicitation has begun, and pledges and contributions will be sought during October from all local residents, workers, businesses and organizations.

Funds from the yearly drive are utilized to enable 19 member agencies to continue their assistance, health and activity programs.

H. M. "Pete" Love, Granite City Steel Co. president and chairman of the well-attended kickoff meeting, traced the 30-year history of the United Fund here and said it is essential that the full minimum goal be reached.

Paul H. Kelly, A. O. Smith Corp. plant manager and UF campaign general chairman, cited substantial increases in a number of pledges and called for more such contributions to offset the impact of overall employment trends.

It was announced that 112 volunteers are launching a "pledge-a-thon" through which potential contributors will be contacted by telephone, rather than through visits to residences.

Those at the head table were: Salvation Army Capt. Ronald Kerley and his wife, Nancy; Capt. Kerley gave the invocation and benediction.

Melvin O. McKay and his wife, Peg, Manager of community relations and administration of Granite City Steel Co., he is president of the United Fund.

Howard M. "Pete" Love and his wife, Jane, President of Granite City Steel Co., he was chairman of the UF kickoff dinner.

Paul H. Kelly and his wife, June, Plant manager of the A. O. Smith Corp. in Granite City, he is general chairman of the UF campaign.

Melvin C. Wilmsmeyer and his wife, Janet, President of the First Granite City National Bank, he is vice-president of the UF board.

John L. "Jelly" McDonald and his wife, Ellen, Granite City Trust & Savings Bank vice-president and cashier, he is United Fund treasurer.

Unable to be present was Henry D. Karandjeff, honorary chairman of the UF campaign. He is board chairman of the Trust and Savings Bank and the American National Bank of Granite City.

Condemnation Suit on Lake Park Property

Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie on Friday approved the filing of a condemnation proceeding against the owners of 589 acres of land sought by the Department of Conservation as part of its Horseshoe Lake State Park development in Madison and St. Clair counties.

Ogilvie said efforts to purchase the property have been in progress for more than two years. A decision to seek a legal solution to the negotiations followed the failure of a recent attempt to reach a satisfactory agreement with the property owners, Philip G. Listman and his brother, Charles R. Listman, the governor said.

State Conservation Director Henry N. Barkhausen said the property is the remaining uncommitted portion of an island in Horseshoe lake to be served by a causeway.

Earlier this year, purchase options were signed with Philip Listman for a 160-acre segment of the island and with Charles Listman and his wife Hermilda, for an adjoining 12.96-acre parcel.

Barkhausen said the Listmans' 598.75-acre tract is a prime component in the state's three-phase development plan and also constitutes a major share of the land mass in the proposed 3,400-acre park and wildlife refuge.

The lake covers an estimated 1,500 acres and the remaining 1,830 acres include the island and surrounding shoreline. To date, the state has been able to buy only 30 parcels totaling 77.65 acres and to gain options on another 173.36 acres since the area was designated by the General Assembly in 1969 as a state park site.

The state's $1,100,000 estimated share of costs for acquisition of the island and for meeting property purchase commitments will come from the Capital Development Fund, Barkhausen reported.

A matching sum will be provided by the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation of the U. S. Department of the Interior, under a cost-sharing program that makes federal funds available to states or local governmental units for acquisition of land for outdoor recreational use.

Plan Facilities

Sports fields, trails, picnic grounds and family camping grounds and family camping are planned for the park, which lies a mile southeast of Granite City along Illinois Route 111 and north of Interstate 70.

The access causeway to the island, as well as the island acreage, will be included in the condemnation action, which is expected to be filed this week by Assistant Attorney General Leo H. Kozien.

Both the site planning and the parks and memorials divisions of the conservation department are prepared to have the island open for day-use activities shortly after the department takes possession.

However, fishing may be permitted there earlier—as soon as ownership has been transferred to the state.

George Warncke, 77, of 909 East Chain of Rocks Road, town clerk of Chouteau township and a resident of the Quad City area for 41 years, died at 11:45 p.m. Saturday in Barnes Hospital, St. Louis. He had been a patient in the hospital two days.

He was a retired conductor for the Terminal Railroad Association and had served as an officer in three separate township posts during the past 19 years.

He is survived by five daughters, Ruth Angle and Mrs. Jean Haner, all of Granite City; Mrs. Anna-Roy Bixler of Highland, and Mrs. Marie Schwenk, Locust Grove, Okla.

His wife, Mrs. Ethel Warncke, and a son, Everett F. Warncke, preceded him in death.

He also leaves 30 grandchildren and 29 great-grandchildren.

Following his retirement as a railroad conductor, Mr. Warncke was elected in 1953 as a

KETC-TV Plans to Film Lewis-Clark Expedition

Location scouting for a new feature-length dramatic film on the Lewis and Clark expedition to be produced by public television station KETC-TV, Channel 9, has been completed in a two-week trip that covered nearly 6,000 miles and 11 states in 16 days.

Retracing the path followed by Lewis and Clark in 1804 were Don Jeffries, director of special projects at Channel 9 John Allman, film writer-director at the television station; and Wayne Fields, assistant professor of English at Washington University, chief content consultant on the film project.

A $17,700 grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities is being used to fund professional consultant fees, research materials, travel expenses and scripting over a four-month, in-depth study of the historical exploration of the Louisiana Purchase.

The regional office of American Motors/Jeep furnished a Jeep Commando to facilitate off-the-road exploration of remote filming sites along the upper Missouri and Columbia River systems in Missouri, Iowa, South Dakota, North Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Washington, Oregon, Wyoming, Nebraska and Kansas. "The trip wouldn't have been the success it was without the off-the-road capability," Jeffries said.

The project goal is to produce an authentic representation of the trials, hardships and joy experienced by the members of the expedition led by Capt. Meriwether Lewis and William Clark.

The 90-minute film, to be written by Allman and Fields, will be directed to adults, but will have application to children in school classrooms.

Following the trip, Jeffries noted that changes in the river and terrain made by man will make authentic re-creation of the trip difficult and force greater selectivity of filming locations.

"This was a primary location search, to get a sense of the territory," Jeffries said, noting that the river had changed rapidly, even then, but not as drastically as the changes man has brought about.

"Finding virgin forest is impossible these days. Trees fell over then, but you can tell the differences between that and the slash where loggers have been."

"One of the biggest difficulties," Jeffries commented, "will be finding an expanse of land, particularly valleys. Everything that could be farmed has been."

Much of the Great Falls section of the Missouri River now lies under water and "the entire Columbia is just a series of ponds and lakes. It's all been dammed up," Jeffries lamented.

The proposal for production funds will be submitted no later than April 1. If approved, intensive location research will proceed and filming may begin in early 1974. The projected cost of the film itself is about $350,000.

The boy is afflicted with an incurable eye disease and eventually will become blind. Mrs. Janet Young, the boy's mother, is at right. Long Lake Firemen at Pontoon Beach held a turkey shoot to raise the funds.

The film should be complete in time for consideration by the Public Broadcasting Service (PBS) for national distribution and scheduling in the 1973-76 Bi-Centennial television program schedule.

Park Board Grants Use of Facilities

The Granite City Park Board has granted five groups permission to utilize park facilities, but was forced to deny another request due to a conflict of scheduling.

A request by Masquers, Inc., to use the Nameoki Recreation Center Saturday, Dec. 2, to present the play "Kiss Me Kate" was denied as the facility previously had been reserved for that date. The board requested the group to choose an alternate date or location.

Mrs. Ogilvie to Dedicate 2 Men Sentenced Trauma Unit Tomorrow

Mrs. Richard B. Ogilvie, wife of the Governor of Illinois, and Dr. David Boyd, chief of the Illinois Division of Emergency Medical Services, will participate in the dedication of the trauma center at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 1:15 p.m. tomorrow.

The hospital dedication also will feature display of an Illinois Department of Transportation helicopter, specifically outfitted to carry critically injured patients to trauma centers such as the one at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

The helicopter will be piloted to the hospital shortly before 1 p.m. tomorrow by Duane Moore, chief helicopter pilot for the state.

Also participating in the dedication ceremony will be Robert Miller, trauma coordinator.

Miller has served here as the hospital's trauma coordinator for several months. The state trauma center plan was founded more than one year ago at the request of Gov. Ogilvie. There now are more than 40 centers in the state, at which more than 14,000 critically injured persons have been treated in the past 14 months.

The trauma network now is being expanded and improved under a $4 million grant from the Illinois Department of Public Health. In his remarks, Dr. Boyd, one of the co-authors of the state's trauma plan, will discuss the effect the grant will have on the local center and on the Quad-City area.

The Union Division subsequently became a part of the Marshall Division with home offices in Indiana.

Slavic-American Catalog Published at University

The first edition of Slavic-American Imprints, a classified catalog of the collection at Loyola University at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, has been published by University Graphics and Publications, SIUE.

Edited by Stanley B. Kimball, professor of historical studies at SIUE, the 242-page volume is available at $4 from University Graphics and Publications at either Edwardsville or Carbondale.

In his preface to Slavic-American Imprints, John C. Abbott, Loyola University director, says, in part, "It represents, to our knowledge, a unique guide to a very fugitive and little-known literature, the importance of which is just beginning to be appreciated."

"In just a few years, with little more than some local publicity and the good efforts of the Slavic and East European Friends organization—of which Prof. Kimball is founder and main driving force—the collection has grown at what threatens to become a geometric rate."

The collection comprises Russian, Ukrainian, Polish, Czech, Slovak, Slovenian, Croatian, Serbian and Bulgaro-Macedonian publications, some manuscripts and a few related items published by the non-Slavic Hungarians, Lithuanians and Rumanians.

According to Kimball, one of the most useful portions of this imprints catalog is the detailed indexing which it provides for the 272 almanacs.

"These unusual publications are a strange mixture of everything through the world's eyes, through the mediocre, to the surprisingly valuable," he said.

"Hidden away in them are, for example, all kinds of important directories and bibliographic treasures. In fact, so artless are many of the publications (and editors) that unusual discoveries turn up regularly in unexpected places—sort of an exercise in serendipity," the gift of finding value in agreeable things not sought.

Compatible Job Service Now Underway at SIUE

A service to help students understand what jobs may be compatible with their abilities, temperament and career goals has been established at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The Area for Career and Educational Development is being directed by Terry Rohen, assistant professor of counselor education. The other professional counselor at the service is Nancy Hay, who recently earned a Ph.D. in counseling psychology from Michigan State University.

Rohen said the service fits in with a national push for vocational guidance.

"We hope to help students understand the reasons why they would go into a certain field," Rohen said. "This will be done through testing, interpretation of those tests and Vocational Exploration Groups."

Studies for Urban Man
Rohen said Vocational Exploration Groups were developed in Tempe, Ariz., by Studies for Urban Man Inc.

"They are structured, three-hour group dynamics experiences, which we've found to work very well for college students," Rohen said. A book used as part of the experience describes 146 jobs and 364 related jobs. For each job, there are descriptions of function (whether the job is working mainly with people, things or data), satisfiers (whether the job ranks high or low in such areas as money, prestige and teamwork) and interests and skills (whether the job ranks high or low in working with machines, memory or records). The service will include a closing interview to help students "tie everything together," Rohen said. "We'll encourage people coming here to make decisions about how to find a particular job in their particular area of interest."

Job Information
Information on thousands of jobs will be available in cooperation with the SIUE Placement Office, Lovejoy Library and the General Studies Division. Rohen said additional counseling power will be added to the service through graduate students in counselor education, psychology and other departments who will receive academic credit. The graduate students will be supervised by Dean Gray of the counselor education faculty.

The service will be open to students, faculty, staff and their immediate families, Rohen said. Future plans include

How to Find a Job Is Project Aim Tried Here

Copley News Service
Springfield — Not everybody who isn't working is idle because he wants to be; some people literally do not know how to go about looking for, and applying successfully for, work.

Recognizing this, the office of the state school superintendent has just wound up a pilot, state-funded project in East St. Louis to deal with the problems not covered in more conventional guidance and personnel programs.

The project, termed "Career Information Worker Program," was the brainchild of a spring graduate of East St. Louis High School. Though he himself was planning summer school and college enrollment, he was concerned about others he knew who were having trouble finding summer jobs, or who were high school graduates who didn't know where to start.

Through the guidance director for the East St. Louis district, Dr. Catherine Mason, Morris Hunt spelled out his suggestions, and the end product was the project which ran from May through August.

While evaluations of the success of the project are still being made, early reports indicate the program was successful, and may be adopted in other areas of the state where similar problems exist.

In the initial program, 10 students and young adults were given training to help them help others like them to find information about job possibilities. They stressed how to get a job, and how to keep a job with special emphasis on appearance, presentation, and such basics as who to see and where to go to get additional training if it was necessary to qualify.

Testing, Counseling
The workers, in addition to preliminary training, also participated in the testing and counseling program of the Illinois State Employment Service to gain first-hand experience in interviewing and to familiarize themselves with agency personnel and its procedures.

During the project, four centers throughout East St. Louis were manned from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. where they answered such questions as "how should I dress when I look for a job?" and "Why should I have to change the way I like to look, because somebody else says so?"

Workers, who said they found personnel directors from area factories enthusiastic about the program, were told that employers often decide to hire or not to hire on a basis of the appearance of the applicant.

As a result of long conferences with these personnel directors, the career information workers then passed on the information, and a suggestion that "It's not a matter of whether or not they have the right to make a person change. It's just that if you want the job, you're going to have to conform to some extent."

Easter Seal Society Installs New Officers

The annual dinner meeting of the Easter Seal Society of Southwestern Illinois was held last week at the Flaming Pit Restaurant in Edwardsville. Guest speaker was Joseph F. Jannesse, Springfield, Ill., president of the board of directors of the Illinois Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

Jannesse also is serving on national committees for the Easter Seal Society. He has been active with Easter Seal organizations as a volunteer for 11 years.

Officers installed for the fiscal year, Sept. 1, 1972, through Aug. 31, 1973, are: Miss Frances Kayser, Greenville, president; Don Thompson, Nashville, first vice-president; Miss Dorothy Fink, Edwardsville, second vice-president; Mrs. Pat Ripney, Granite City, secretary; and Miss Helen Allen, Alton, treasurer.

Ronald Goldsmith, past president of the Society received a plaque honoring him for continuing service to the Easter Seal Society of Southwestern Illinois.

STOLEN CAR RECOVERED

The auto of Arthur Smith, 1258 Weaver St., Venice, stolen from Brooklyn last week, was found by Venice police in the 200 block of Weaver Street in Venice the same day. The license plates had been stolen from the vehicle.

Mud Deep But GC Gridders Pound Way to 21-7 Win at Edwardsville

By SCOTT HARRISON
GCHS Football Writer

In ankle-deep mud, the Granite City Warriors slid past the Edwardsville Tigers 21-7 Friday evening in Edwardsville, thus winning in their first Southwestern Conference game of the 1972 football season. GCHS is 2-1 for the season.

Quarter scores Friday were 0-7, 13-7 and 21-7. Early in the game the Tigers got the ball on their 19-yard line. With two runs and two pitchouts, they moved the ball to the Granite City 27, where Halfback Tim Klobnak broke through the middle and ran for the first score of the game. A good extra-point kick made the score 7-0 and the host team seemed to have momentum going despite the difficult playing conditions.

Jon Stagner returned the Tiger kick to the Warrior 36 and GCHS pushed downfield to the Tiger 28.

Fullback Gary Lively carried the ball for Granite City but illegal procedure was called against the Warriors and the ball was set back to the 34.

Quarterback Dave Dombek then passed to End Brad Weiss for a touchdown and the score was tied 7-7 after a good kick by Barry Loman.

Determined Tigers later neared the GCHS goal line but Defensive Halfback Greg Becker of the Warriors intercepted a pass at the Granite City 16.

Slowly the Warriors proceeded downfield. After a keeper by Dombek, moving the ball to the 15, Stagner moved the ball 12 yards in three runs for a first down.

Dombek's pass to Martinez was good to the 36 for another first. Lively carried past mid-field to the Tigers' 40, and Dale

Press-Record Sports

Williams gained five more yards.

After a fumble recovery by Lively, Stagner fought for another first down to the 30.

Two pitchouts to Stagner put the ball "first and goal" on the Tiger five, and Lively carried it over for a lead of 13-7 with two minutes left in the first place. A kick failed.

At the end of the first half, the Warriors still led Edwardsville 13-7 on a cold and windy, piercing night.

Safety Dave Macios covered Halfback Terry Bradshaw, one of Edwardsville's chief ball carriers, and did an exceptional job. Sticking to Bradshaw like the mud did to his cleats, Macios hampered the Tigers' offensive movements.

Short of a first down at the beginning of the second half, Edwardsville punted to the GCHS 44 and a drive from that point resulted in the Warriors' third score.

The offensive line did a great job of taking out the defensive Tigers, leaving gaping holes for good runs by Warrior carriers.

Six fast, head-on runs by Stagner and three runs by Lively moved the ball to the two-yard line. Offsetting penalties did not hamper the Warrior drive, and Quarterback Dombek carried the ball across the goal.

Lined up for a two-point play, Dombek passed to Split End Mike Martinez and the score rose to 21-7 as the third period ended.

On the way toward another possible score, Stagner was tripped and the Tigers recovered the fumble deep in their own territory.

Striving desperately for another touchdown, the Tigers other touchdown, Edwardsville advanced only to turn the ball over to Granite City at the Warrior 26.

Still full of pep and drive, the Warriors hustled to the Tiger 27, where Dombek tried to carry for a third first down. After an official measurement, Edwardsville got the ball with four minutes and three seconds left in the game.

Running and passing, the Tigers attempted a final drive but Macios intercepted a pass.

With one minute and 2 seconds left, the Warriors "played it safe," going for short gains to secure their victory.

Four-Car Battle
Just before the accident, Cannon had been leading three other cars, all within inches of each other. Racing almost wheel-to-wheel with the Danville driver were Carter, Jimmy Caruthers of Anaheim, Calif., and Tom Bigelow of Whitewater, Wis.

Despite damage to the car, Cannon forced the midget back onto the path and fought the wheel the remaining laps to finish second.

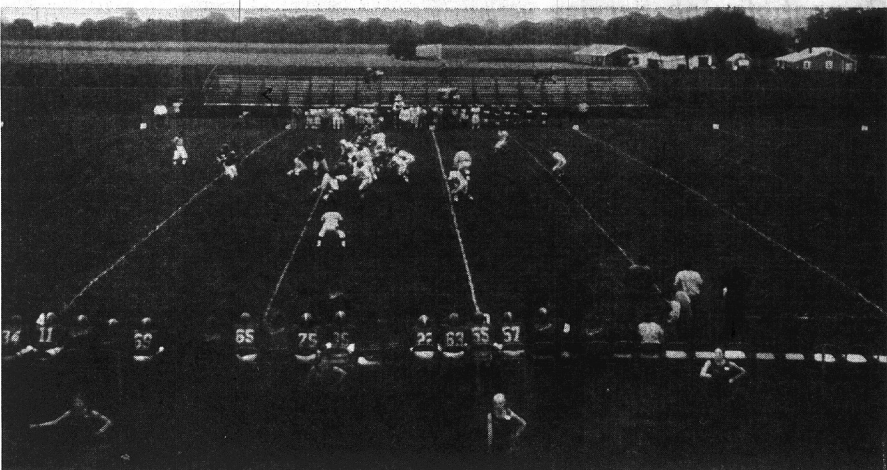

His teammate, Joe Saldana of Lincoln, Neb., said later, "If we could have identified the problem, we would have fixed it." Spalding did not qualify for the feature and declined to compete in the semi-feature.

Jones was plagued with faulty magnetos as his car burned out three of the units during the night. In the semi-feature, Jones had advanced from 16th to fifth, one position from qualifying for the feature event, when the third magno quit after two laps and he coasted into the pits.

Caruthers, who has just returned to the midget ranks following a serious racing accident, showed that at 26 years of age he is ready to run with the best as he won his heat and the trophy dash against the winners of the other three heats, Cannon, Englehart and Carter.

Spectacular Accident
The feature race had to be restarted as Englehart's midget slid sideways in the second lap and Garry Byers of Loganport, Ind., slammed into it. Byers' midget flipped several times but landed upright. Neither driver was injured.

Racing action will continue at the Tri-City Speedway Friday night as top super-sprint and hobo car drivers compete in the final event of the season. Time trials will begin at 7:30 p.m. with the first heat races at 8:30 p.m.

MADISON-ASSUMPTION FOOTBALL GAME held Friday afternoon on the gridiron of Assumption High School, a Catholic school located in East St. Louis. The host Pioneers, who include four Madisonians, romped to a 20-0 lead in the first quarter and continued their pointmaking in the third and fourth periods to win 45-0.

Assumption Ground Gains Defeat Trojan Team, 45-0

By ROY JACKSON
MHS Football Writer

It was a cold, wet, gloomy day, all day Friday. But for the Madison Trojans it got a lot gloomier after their football game at Assumption High School of East St. Louis began at 4 o'clock. The Pioneers defeated the Trojans 45-0.

Assumption started off quickly in the first quarter as Fullback Jerome Heavens made a five-yard run count for a touchdown. A good kick by Quarterback Bob Mitchell made the score 7-0.

Halfback Greg Darty then ran 48 yards to give the Pioneers another six points. When Mitchell again made a successful kick, the score became 14-0.

Heavens scored his second touchdown, an eight-yard run from right tackle, just seconds before the first period ended. This time, Mitchell's kick was no good and it was 20-0.

As the second quarter started, Madison had the will to lessen Assumption's lead but there just was no way.

A 60-yard punt return for the Pioneers by Halfback Charlie Halloran was wiped out by a penalty, and Assumption remained scoreless during the second quarter. But so did Madison and the tally remained 20-0 at half time.

Halloran tried again for the host team during the third quarter and this time unfortunately for Madison he succeeded on a five-yard TD run. A run for the points-after-TD failed.

A holding violation stopped short a 14-yard run by Halfback Greg Darty during this period. However, a short time later, the "terror of Assumption," Heavens, scored his third touchdown of the game.

Heavens went across the goal on a seven-yard run, and a kick by Mitchell was good, making it 33-0.

During the fourth quarter, Madison became careless with the ball and the Pioneers gained possession. Mitchell ended up with the ball for a "one-yard TD drive," and it was 39-0. The short punt failed.

In the final seconds of the fourth period, Assumption added the final touch.

Final touchdown, that is, with Mitchell scoring on a three-yard run.

The horn sounded, with the score 45-0, and the Trojans got on their bus to go back to friendly territory. Madison, that is.

Coach Al Vonder Haar had only brief remarks to make Friday night, "I think there were three people out there today who did an outstanding job. They were guard James Turner, Linebacker Gus Young and Tackle Milton Bennett."

The hope is that the list of three will be a lot longer when the Trojan eleven hosts Sparta at 2 p.m. Saturday.

Warrior Kickers Halt DeSales Jacksonville

The Granite City High School soccer squad added two victories to its record, defeating St. Francis DeSales 7-2, Thursday and blanking Jacksonville 5-0 at Wilson Park Saturday.

The Warriors now are 7-1 and are ranked fourth in Illinois.

Jacksonville presented little problem to the Warrior offense as the ball was kept within scoring position during most of the game. Granite City took 36 shots on the goal while allowing seven.

Only one goal was scored in the first half as Carl Dake kicked the ball into the net after taking a pass from Phil Hill.

In the second half, Randy Worthen scored two consecutive goals at five minutes and 12 minutes, both on passes from Dake. Dake then scored his second goal at 14 minutes into the period on a pass from Wayne Canada. The Warriors were by John Dave Wolf on a pass from Dave Sheridan.

Tom Clark defended the Warrior goal in the first half, making three saves, and Bill Schnefke stopped two shots in the second period.

In Thursday afternoon's game, the Warriors were on the offensive about 80% of the game and took 24 shots on the DeSales goal while allowing the opponents 12. Nine corner kicks were awarded to the Granite City squad while DeSales had only one.

Harvey Breckner started the scoring on a penalty kick at 12 minutes into the first period, and five minutes later Wayne Canada scored on a pass from Pete Mushill.

DeSales scored at 27 minutes into the period but one minute later Canada earned his second point after taking a pass from Breckner and kicking on the run over the goalie's head.

Series of Goals

With a 3-1 lead going into the second period, the Warriors displayed their confidence with a quick series of three goals. The first, at two minutes into the period, came as Anthony Valencia passed to Randy Worthen who scored.

Six minutes later Canada passed to Dave Sheridan who maneuvered it in front of the goalie who tried to fall on the ball, but Sheridan worked it around the prone defender and into the net.

At 10 minutes in the second half, Dake blasted a point through a crowd of defenders after taking a pass from Ted Domitrovich. DeSales scored its second goal at 14 minutes into the period to bring the score to 5-2.

Soccer Cougars Come from Behind, Top Rockhurst 3-2

took a feed pass from Bobby Kessen and blasted the ball in for the winning goal.

The Rockhurst Hawks nearly muscled the Cougars off the field as they dominated play in the first 30 minutes of the game and took a 1-0 lead as John Adu pounced on a mis-handled ball in mid-field and caught the Cougar defense off guard, booting the ball into the upper right hand corner beyond goalie Rick Benben.

The Cougars tied it in five minutes of the second half as Tom Twelman scored the equalizer as the ball glanced off of a Hawk defender.

Steve Elliott put the Cougars ahead 2-1 at 28 minutes into the half on a kick from about 40 yards out. Rockhurst tied it three minutes later, taking advantage of a wild melee in front of Benben and nudged in the ball following a corner kick by the losers.

SUE outshot Rockhurst 33 to 20, was awarded 12 corner kicks to six for the Hawks, and each team finished with 11 fouls.

The victory brought the Cougar record to 2-0, while Rockhurst dropped to 4-2.

The Cougars, rated No. 3 in the nation, will be in the Windy City Saturday to take on the University of Illinois, Chicago Circle.

Local team members were Karl Elbrecht, Mike Hickey, Phil Mull, Tim Noud, Jim Pomroy, David Rice, Tom Scott, Mark and Tim Swiger, Jerry and Wally Todd, and Joe and John Young.

Area youths Enlist In Navy, Now Training

Garry Ralph Dooley, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Dooley, 1881 Market St., Madison, and Brian David Earnley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard A. Earnley, 2874 Ralph St., have reported for active duty and are training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

They enlisted in August under the Navy Cadet Program which allowed them to choose their reporting date to active duty. After completion of recruit training they will be granted 14 days leave before reporting to their next duty station or service school command.

Enlisting in the Seafarer and Buddy Programs, they will be assigned to the same company in recruit training and also to the same unit after recruit training unless one of them chooses otherwise. For their promotion under the Seafarer Program they have chosen to be stationed on the West Coast.

Legal for Year, Bingo in Illinois Shown to Be $20 Million Business

Copley News Service
Springfield—Battered, beleaguered bingo, but of bias and sufficiency, is also big business in Illinois.

Since "under the B" for bingo came under the "L" for legal a year ago, something over two million dollars in revenue has been paid into the state's coffers.

This indicates that bingo players are putting some $20 million dollars worth of corn, buttons or other tokens on the little marked cards.

Mrs. Jeanette Mullin, bingo coordinator in the Illinois Revenue Department's Chicago office, said that a little over 1,000 weekly licenses have been issued at a fee of $200 each, between last October and the first reported quarter, which ended in June.

Since the July-September quarter is always a heavy bingo season, she said she expects that figures on that quarter, due in mid-October, will raise the received revenue totals substantially.

By and large, apparently, most people in the state seem to be happy with the legalized resumption of the games.

With about 900 weekly licenses issued before the end of the fiscal year, June 30, only about 35 didn't renew. And of these, she said, at least 12 indicated they intend to renew their licenses in the future.

A few of those who didn't renew indicated they didn't feel the profits justified the effort, Mrs. Mullin said. But many others, which didn't report big profits still continue the games because the members enjoy playing them, and the sponsoring groups feel they are providing recreation.

Some games, on the other hand, do very well indeed, with many paying $4,000 to $8,000 in taxes, indicating a $40,000 to $50,000 gross. In addition to the $200 a year to hold weekly games, the department also issues a limited license for $50, which allows the licensee holder to sponsor two bingo occasions during the licensing year. Something over 250 of these have been issued, Mrs. Mullin said.

These groups, which often have their bingo parties for specific purposes or charities, get an extra benefit under the law besides the lower license fee.

They can have their games just about anywhere, where holders of weekly licenses who do not have a facility of their own big enough for the games, can only rent from someone else who also holds a weekly license.

All proceeds from the games on either type license are split right down the middle by the state, with half going to the state, and half going to the sponsoring group, with half going to the Department of Mental Health.

Zurheide to Take Part In Science Convention

Fred Zurheide, assistant professor of physics at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, will take part in an area convention of the National Science Teachers Association Thursday through Saturday at the Chase-Park Plaza Hotel in St. Louis.

Zurheide will act as a consultant in a short course in physics on Thursday. Aim of the concentrated course, Zurheide said, will be to present innovations and reinforcement programs to strengthen physics and science teaching and to present a new approach to aspects of environmental physics in the school curriculum.

Zurheide will give a paper at the Friday afternoon session on a special program for high school and junior college science teachers which he headed this summer at SIUE.

"The physicist is chairman of a science film program to be presented during the conference," he said.

R. Buckminster Fuller, inventor of the Dymaxion house, will give the opening address at the conference. "Public Understanding of Science and the Quality of Men's Living," at the convention, which is expected to attract more than 3,000 persons from 23 states.

GC to Host School Board Members

Area school board members and superintendents will gather at the Granite City High School Cafeteria, Tuesday, Oct. 10, to take part in the semi-annual dinner meeting of the Southwestern Division of the Illinois Association of School Boards.

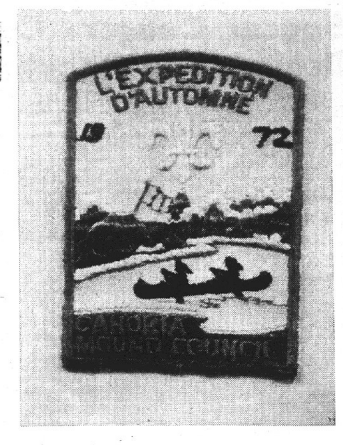

The evening meeting will consist of a dinner, a keynote address, and six concurrent panel presentations. The keynote speaker is Robert A. Jamieson, former president of the Board of Education at Peoria; past president of the Illinois Association of School Boards, and ex-officio director of the IASB.

The six panel topics are: effective use of the tenure law, the law and the process, financing public education, management by objectives, personnel evaluation, and rebuilding public confidence in the school system.

The state conservation department, to protect the unique scenic beauty of the Canyon area, wanted the bridge located somewhere else.

Because the terrain is difficult to examine from the ground and hard to see because of speed and altitude from conventional small planes, representatives of both departments flew up in Moore's helicopter.

They hung over one site, then, as engineers debated, and finally agreed on a third site which saved an estimated $1 million in costs.

$14 Million Saved in 12 Years, Howlett Says

Since 1961, Michael J. Howlett, state auditor of public accounts, has returned to the state treasury $11,734,854 saved for the taxpayers from funds appropriated to operate his office, he said today.

Howlett, Democratic candidate for secretary of state in the Nov. 7 election, reported the figures at a luncheon of businessmen today in the DeCatur Club.

Howlett is concluding his third consecutive four-year term as auditor. He is still running the office with fewer employees than he had before he was elected, though state government generally has nearly doubled its manpower in the same period.

"Expenses for the office have increased 118% over the 12-year period," said Howlett. "During the same period, the state budget has increased 32%."

Deficiencies the Rule

"The necessity for deficiency appropriations by state agencies has been the rule, rather than the exception. But in 12 years I have never requested a deficiency appropriation from the Legislature for the operation of the auditor's office."

"When I ran for the office in 1961, I made no promise to cut the auditor's payroll if I were elected. But after inauguration, I reorganized the office, cut the payroll 20%, found more efficient ways to do the work and closed out my first full biennium on June 30, 1963, with a saving of $800,628."

"This was a fifth of the budget voted by the Legislature to operate the office."

"In subsequent years, the Legislature added new duties to the office. An entire division of 10 cemetery care employees was transferred from the Department of Financial Institutions. We were given responsibility for administration of the Railroad Trust Fund Act and the Withholding Act."

Checks Cost Less
"The volume of checks we have has more than doubled. But it costs the taxpayer less money to write a check in our office today than it did in 1961."

"We turned back money to the treasury saved in every appropriation for operations for a total of $1,171,354."

"I have gone beyond my own office to propose money-saving programs in other agencies of state government."

Bigger Illinois Farm Trade with Russia Foreseen

Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie last week said he is impressed with reports from the Illinois Agricultural Trade Mission in Moscow.

Members of the mission, including leaders U. S. Rep. Paul Findley of Pittsfield, are reporting daily by telephone from the Soviet capital, the governor noted. He pledged to use the same energy, administrative experience and sound business principles that were effective in the auditor's office."

"The fourth, fifth and sixth grade humanities classes at Dunbar and Louis Baer Schools in Madison will attend lectures in Moscow and the St. Louis Art Museum in October."

The fourth grade will visit the museum Wednesday. Their lectures will be on "Introduction to the Museum," Mrs. Willie Watts and Mrs. Sharon Heubner, teachers at the Dunbar and Louis Baer Schools respectively, will accompany the students.

The fifth grade, accompanied by David Ford, Dunbar and Sid, Louis Baer, will hear a lecture on "American Art" on Friday, Oct. 13.

The sixth grade will be presented with a lecture-tour on "Medieval Art" Friday, Oct. 20. Their teachers are Mrs. Sarah Bosworth and Miss Sara Veach.

County Bond Sales $448,697 in August

Madison County residents purchased a total of $448,697 in Series E and H United States Savings Bonds during August, according to Henry D. Karandjeff, Granite City's volunteer county chairman of the Savings Bonds Committee.

Purchases in the state of Illinois were $24,086,076, according to Clarence S. Sochowski, North Central Market Director, for the Department of the Treasury's Savings Bonds Division. This is 4.6% above August 1971.

Illinois sales accounted for 6.2% of the national total of $562,000,000. As of Aug. 31st, holdings of Series E and H bonds and freedom bonds topped $57 billion for the first time, an increase of $3 billion since last August.

Next year at this time, I hope I can report an even greater gain for Illinois than the $103 million in additional foreign sales we made in the last fiscal year."

Birthrate to Cause Steady Annual Drop in Elementary School Enrollment in State

A declining birthrate is reflected in state public school enrollment projections issued by the office of Michael J. Kakalis, Illinois superintendent of public instruction.

The future enrollment estimates, compiled by the education agency's research and statistics department, cover the six-year period from 1972 to 1978.

The number of elementary students is expected to drop at an annual rate of about 1% over the forecast period—about 15,000 to 20,000 fewer pupils per year.

The forecast is based on a consistent decline in the Illinois birthrate during the years 1959 through 1968 and an analysis of enrollment figures for the period from 1962 to 1970.

High school enrollment is expected to increase slightly during the next few years but start to decline in the 1977-78 school year.

Total enrollment for both elementary and high schools in the state thus probably will remain relatively unchanged during the forecast period, with a small increase during the first four years (1972-76) followed by a dropping rate for the 1976-77 and 1977-78 academic years.

The projection does not include children at the nursery school level.

About 3,800 pupils attended public nursery schools during 1970-71. But a significant increase in that number is expected as the emphasis on pre-school training continues.

Kindergarten through eighth grade projections followed by high school enrollment estimates and the two figures combined, are as follows:

1972-73	1,667,773	K-8	712,082	high school	2,379,855
1973-74	1,647,670	K-8	703,578	high school	2,351,248
1974-75	1,628,765	K-8	694,759	high school	2,323,524
1975-76	1,616,349	K-8	686,349	high school	2,302,698
1976-77	1,601,783	K-8	678,130	high school	2,279,913
1977-78	1,586,567	K-8	670,734	high school	2,257,301

New Route 40 Viaduct Planned in St. Louis

The East-West Gateway Coordinating Council board last week approved an environmental impact statement for improvements to eliminate a bottleneck in Route 40 in St. Louis.

The plan calls for construction of a three-lane viaduct from Clayton Road to Vandeventer above the present roadway. The overhead ramp structure will require the use of new and used steel from the Vandeventer exchange.

East-West approved plans for an interchange sewer for Maryville, Ill., expansion and upgrading of sewage treatment facilities at Smithton, Ill., a water quality management plan for Belleville and O'Fallon, and creation of a Meacham Park sewer district in Missouri.

"This was the first elected official to ask the Department of General Services to take over purchasing for all state agencies and an independent review board to pass upon requests for extra compensation—add-on—on building construction and other major projects."

"In my campaign for secretary of state I am running on my 12-year record—not running on promises. But I do pledge to use the same energy, administrative experience and sound business principles that were effective in the auditor's office."

Federal Aid for Student Jobs Up $100,000 at SIUE

Increases in federal funding to Southern Illinois University at Carbondale for the College Work-Study Program should mean more employment opportunities for students needing a job to help finance their education, according to John Jenetten, program coordinator.

Jenetten, on the staff of the SIUE Student Work and Financial Assistance Office, said federal funding for the program will increase by about $100,000 for 1972-73 from the current $140,000 for the fiscal year.

"This increase is mainly because of new federal targeting to universities with significant numbers of students from low and moderate income families," he said.

Jenetten said about 500 SIUE students received jobs through the College Work-Study Program this year. Probably no more will be put on the program if his family has income of more than $10,000 per year.

Financial need will be more important in determining when the university switches to a different reporting form Jan. 1, 1973, Jenetten said. The American College Testing financial statement will be replaced by the Parent Confidential Statement.

"This new form is a much better vehicle for a family to provide unique financial problems to our office," Jenetten said. "It will mean more work because the form is very thorough, but we think the extra hours will be worth it."

Jenetten said all information on the statement will be completely confidential.

Students can get on-campus or off-campus jobs through the College Work-Study Program. The off-campus jobs are non-profit, community service agencies. Jenetten said that students are working throughout Metro-East and in St. Louis, with 80% of the students' pay absorbed by the program.

The College Work-Study Program is only one of the programs providing part-time jobs for students through the Student Work and Financial Assistance Office. Another 1,500 students have campus jobs allowing them to work a maximum of 20 hours per week. The minimum wage is $1.60 and ranges upward depending on how long a student has worked, whether he is an undergraduate or graduate student and several other factors.

Copter Service Saving More Injured, Ailing

By JOAN MURARO
Copley News Service

Springfield—More than most pilots, Duane Moore is well aware that Life and Death may be fighting for seat space with him when he lifts his Bell Ranger helicopter off its pad.

Not that a helicopter is any riskier than any other aircraft, but Moore's passengers are often closer to death than life before they even leave the ground.

Generally—and usually—Duane Moore flies highway engineers around the state to inspect bridges and construction projects. But any time around the clock the small electronic communicator he wears may sound and he becomes the "driver" of an airborne ambulance.

As one of three helicopter pilots in the state department of transportation, Moore is an essential part of the heralded Illinois trauma program which became effective a little over a year ago.

During that time, Moore estimates the helicopters have handled 30 patients.

Roughly one in every five was either a tiny premature baby who arrived before he was really prepared to live, or newborn full term baby born with severe defects which require immediate attention if he is to live. Others were seriously ill or were accident victims.

In today's world, the technology to deal with most medical crises exists, but the necessary specialists are few and far between and may be fatally far away from the patient who needs them.

Getting the two together is the role of the trauma program, and the transportation department's four helicopters may be the only way to get it done.

As actually, the two big Bell Rangers, five seater red-and-white helicopters, are the ones usually used in trauma cases. The other two departments has are three-place military surplus craft loaned to the staff for five years. Based in Southern Illinois, they cruise too somewhere else.

Because the terrain is difficult to examine from the ground and hard to see because of speed and altitude from conventional small planes, representatives of both departments flew up in Moore's helicopter.

slowly and don't heat comfortably enough to make them very satisfactory for rescue

"The Bell Jet Rangers, however, come with an adapter 'hot lid' which makes them eminently practical for air emergency work."

When carrying engineers on surveys, there are seats for a pilot and co-pilot or one passenger in front, and seats for three persons at the rear.

Within minutes, Moore can remove the co-pilot's seat and the passenger seat, just behind it, lower the front headrest which becomes a support, reverse the way the doors open, and the copter is ready to receive two stretchers, a doctor and a nurse.

The stretchers, collapsed, travel at all times in the baggage compartment. In special suitcases Moore had sewn up in Springfield.

When the litters are in place, one above the other, a handy nearby hook will hold intravenous bottles. There is space for oxygen attract more than 3,000 persons from 23 states.

No Sound Basis for Either Party To 'Coast' in Illinois Campaign

By KEN WATSON
Copy News Service

Springfield, Illinois—Two political organizations have contrasting problems as the campaign enters the home stretch.

For the Democrats, it's defeatism; for the Republicans, overconfidence. Either political ailment could be fatal and party leaders of both parties are at work on a cure.

The Democratic problem is probably the most serious. Reports to the Statehouse from the grassroots have for weeks indicated that rank-and-file party workers have virtually given up on presidential candidate George McGovern. Ditto for senatorial candidate Roman C. Pucinski and attorney general candidate Thomas G. Lyons.

At a meeting of about 33 Downstate county chairmen here, State Auditor Michael J. Howlett and Sangamon county Chairman Thomas Owens sought to counteract the defeatism.

Howlett, whose almost independent campaign has irritated some party loyalists, urged that the chairmen not concentrate publicly on how well he appears to be doing but to work for all the votes Owens, known in Springfield political circles for his persistent optimism, told the chairmen that there aren't as bad as they look and that much can be salvaged if they go to work. But most Statehouse Democrats don't agree.

The meeting did produce confirmation of the flow of reports to the Statehouse about grassroots grumbling regarding a lack of campaign materials and close cooperation between the state candidates and local organizations.

For weeks, there have been complaints about too much "whiz-kidism" and "personal charisma" instead of nuts-and-bolts campaigning.

Reporters who have toured with Daniel Walker have noted that his meetings are usually attended chiefly by the very young and that regular organization types, who will be needed to carry the vote in election day, are rarely seen.

Among Statehouse Republicans and the various Downstate headquarters located here, there is a genuine worry that too many GOP grassroots workers consider the election won and have quit campaigning before the really critical time has arrived.

Republican strategists recall that apathy almost cost them Illinois for Richard M. Nixon in 1968 and the governorship as well.

A special worry among GOP leaders is a growing tendency among the rank and file to believe a crushing Nixon landslide will carry Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie past Democratic challenger Walker.

The prevailing opinion among key party leaders is that, as of now, Ogilvie is still substantially behind Walker and that he can win on Nov. 7 only if the current momentum for him is maintained.

There is deep concern that the promising Ogilvie surge may peak far too early and far too short.

One thing is certain: The professional among both Republicans and Democrats is coasting in these final weeks. As has so often happened in the past, the pros may again have the last word.

State Faces Task of Private School Aid

By JOAN MURARO

Springfield—Dr. Paul Woods has been given the task of roughing in within 45 days the rules and regulations for administering state aid to Illinois private schools, should the present bill be upheld by the courts.

Jack Watson, assistant superintendent for academic affairs in the office of Michael Bakalis, state school superintendent, said that guidelines, in turn, will be drawn up on a basis of the original rules now being drafted.

Acknowledging the complexity of the law, Watson said "Unfortunately, we're going to have to learn as we go," since there are no precedents to use as guides. Experiences of other states, which sometimes help in establishing new programs, will be no help here, since each state's approach to the issue has been uniquely its own.

"If the program holds up in court," Watson said, "people are going to be brought on board, wanting to apply." The mere question of application forms, and how to handle them, will require some planning, since Watson anticipates there could be as many as eight million of them.

Text Book Puzzle
One side effect the office already knows about—it is going to be necessary along the line to draw up an official list of approved text books for use in the state.

Even if the courts uphold the bill—and Watson said privately some lawyers have told him they expect an answer within 30 to 45 days—basic problems will have to be met.

The court judge will have a rule, for instance, whether programs are to be treated retroactively, since the bill actually was passed before the current school year started, or whether the question of its legality actually suspended enforcement until the start of the second semester.

Plans are being made to cover both contingencies. Watson said, adding that his personal view is that the potentials may be greater than the actual appropriation, raising one more question for which an answer will have to be found, in case requests exceed the $20.5 million presently available.

Examples of the kind of snarls the staff must anticipate, and suggest answers for, he said, would be the action to be taken if a private school wants to use a different text from the one used by the public school in the district.

The public school text might cost $7, while the private school choice may cost $9, and the law allows no payment in excess of the amount paid by public districts.

"Who pays the $2 difference, and to whom?" he asked, and to whom? It is the question that has not yet been established.

In many cases, students do not all come from the local district, Watson continued, and so apparently it may be necessary to make a distinction as to the public school district involved, or to every district's approach to having a student elsewhere.

Need Clerk
The board failed to appoint a new village clerk Thursday to replace Mrs. Dorothy Simpson who is moving from the village. Her resignation was effective Sept. 22.

Trustee Dr. Dean Rochester was appointed acting clerk Sept. 21 to begin his duties when Mrs. Simpson's resignation became effective.

Trustee Fred Reber objected Thursday night to Rochester serving as both clerk and a trustee. Rochester said he will not give up his voting rights on the board just because he was taking the minutes.

The board voted to retain Rochester in both positions until a clerk can be appointed. Reber voted against the motion and Rochester abstained.

Advantages in Buying Home While Still Young

By RICHARD W. NICHOLS
Vice-President,
Granite City Board of Realtors

Young people just getting started with their families often look on the purchase of a home as something quite beyond them financially. Yet, these are the very ones who should be seriously considering it.

They have a rising scale of earning power ahead of them, and what may be a tight budget now will be easier as time passes.

Payments on a home are seldom higher than rent if the young couple chooses something within its income level.

This is not to say that home ownership is always right for young people. Situations such as a job requiring frequent relocation, lack of down payment and other factors may indicate that home purchase isn't the wise course.

Decisions should be made from the facts, however, not from the lack of them.

The usual comparison of rent receipts against growing equity in a house is valid. Modest monthly payments on a mortgage, even at today's interest rates, will accumulate substantial equity growth over five to ten years.

There will be added advantages of income tax deductions for taxes paid and interest paid, and the satisfaction of ownership.

On the other side of the coin is the fact that rental payments can sometimes buy more spacious quarters than the same figure in mortgage payments.

The mobility afforded by renting is sometimes so attractive that renters are willing to forego the advantages of accumulated capital.

There also are no water heaters to replace, no shrubs to buy or other maintenance costs which could come at an awkward time financially.

Sometimes the solution is buying low-cost property—a

GIANT SQUASHES grown this year by Ray Schrage, Rural Route Four, Edwardsville, were shown to Quad-Cityans.

Schrage said his largest squash, which weighed 60 pounds, has been cut apart and the seeds will be used next year to try for a 300-pound squash. He is holding a 36-pound Right Royal Squash and on the hood of his truck are a 30-pound Pink Banana Squash, in back, and an 18-pound Cave Man's Gourd, in front. Schrage said he has been growing the unusual plants as a hobby for three years.

Jaycees Set Citywide Mock Election Oct. 21

Granite City Jaycees will hold a mock election Saturday, Oct. 21, it was announced by David Partney, project chairman. Voting booths will be located at two downtown Granite City stores and at both suburban shopping centers.

The public is being asked to cast ballots at any of the following polling places: F. W. Woolworth Co. and J. J. Newberry Co. on 19th Street; Reese Drug Store and Tri-City Grocery Store in Bellemore Village Shopping Center; or Gasen Drug Store and Grant's Department Store in Nameoki Village Shopping Center.

Partney said the mock election is planned to inform local residents on election practices and to help show the popularity of national, state and county candidates seeking office in the November general election. Results of the balloting will be made public, he said.

Plans Ready for GC Park Improvements

Master plans for improvement of Worthen and West Granite parks have been completed and are ready for review, the Granite City Park District board was informed at a meeting last week.

The board agreed to hold an informal meeting with Harland Bartholomew & Associates, St. Louis planning engineers, at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 18, at the Wilson Park office to review the plans and drawings.

Both parks have been studied for the need of landscaping work and additional park facilities. Progress in preliminary planning for a new park maintenance building was discussed and board members were told Randall E. Robertson, board attorney, is studying the first phase of the contract with architects for planning. The site for the building also is being studied.

Robertson was requested to draft easement papers for a water line which is to be installed by the East St. Louis and Interurban Water Co. along the State Street side of Wilson Park from 27th to 28th streets. The line eventually will extend to Fehling Road, the board was told.

The Wilson Park ice rink will open Sunday, Oct. 8, if hot weather does not adversely affect the ice-making process, the board was told. The ice-making equipment is to begin operating Tuesday.

The annual speed skating meet at the rink was discussed and preliminary plans to hold the meet later this year were approved. No date has been set.

Profound Effects Seen In U.S.-Red China Trade

President Nixon's overtures to the government of Mainland China are expected to have profound effects in a number of political and economic areas, including trade between the two nations.

While the United States is beginning its trade with the People's Republic of China just now, other nations in the West have been trading with the communist Chinese for years. This trade is the subject of a book published this fall by Praeger Publishers, "China's Trade with the West: A Political and Economic Analysis," edited by Arthur A. Stahnke, chairman of the department of government and public affairs of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The book examines Chinese and American attitudes toward Chinese trade with the West, and focuses on the trade China has conducted with Canada, West Germany and Hong Kong. Stahnke also wrote the chapter "The Political Context of Sino-West German Trade."

Germany Top Exporter

"The Federal Republic of Germany has become the leading West European exporter to the People's Republic of China and has often been the foremost European importer from that source as well," Stahnke said. But, he said, this has been done without formal diplomatic and trade agreements because of pressures the Bonn government feels from the United States and the Soviet Union.

The governments in Bonn and Peking have explored trade with each other since 1952, Stahnke said, despite pressures from East and West. By 1957, for example, the German government had arranged to make trade with China equitable with trade with the Soviet Union.

"This Stahnke interprets as 'something of a declaration of independence from Washington, as President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles soon made clear in public relations.'"

Stahnke's study points out one other conclusion which has not escaped the notice of government watchers: "Separating economic and political elements in a trading relationship is a fairly futile task."

Trade Interference

Stahnke also maintains that German interests in Eastern Europe, and especially in Russia, have interfered with German-Chinese trade. When the government of Chancellor Willy

Brandt negotiated a draft treaty with the Soviets, "the response of Peking was predictable... it called the Soviet-West German treaty 'a monstrous fraud' and 'a component part of the monstrous 'global Munich' scheme which Soviet revisionism and U. S. imperialism are energetically putting into effect.'"

The result of these pressures has been, Stahnke said, that since 1958 individual contracts rather than a trade agreement or protocol have been the sole legal instrument for the exchange of goods "between Germany and China. That has not, however, stopped Germany from being one of China's foremost trading partners."

Stahnke concluded that "Bonn and Peking have each shown a willingness to assume that the other party has wanted to preserve trade ties" in spite of other, political considerations.

Stahnke's study points out one other conclusion which has not escaped the notice of government watchers: "Separating economic and political elements in a trading relationship is a fairly futile task."

Granite Cityan Manages Station At University

Mike Paladino of Granite City, new student manager of WSIE-FM at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, believes the public deserves better radio and television programming than it is receiving.

"There is so much cheap stuff going out to the public," Paladino maintains. "I believe the public 'owns' the news media and has a life and death lever over them."

"If no one reads a newspaper or listens to a radio or television station, it goes out of business. Therefore, to stay in business the media must provide reliable news and good programming."

A mass communications major in psychology, Paladino says he is interested in a career in either radio or television but believes there is more flexibility in radio, especially in public affairs, his favorite area.

"I believe it is our duty at WSIE to search out what's happening in this region and report it," Paladino said. "We are proud of the news coverage we give this area. We present three, half-hour newscasts a day. Sometimes we feed as many as five stories a day to UPI (United Press-International) wire service."

Paladino cited some examples of public affairs programs aired by the WSIE radio station which he considers significant. "Black is," heard at 6:15 p.m. for 30 minutes every Saturday and originating from East St. Louis, was one example.

"Social Science Presents," heard at 7:15 p.m. on Wednesdays, was mentioned by the student manager of WSIE. With a question and answer format, it features men who actually work for the Social Science Administration.

"Another program we are pleased with is 'Illinois Discovery,'" Paladino said. This is a five-minute program highlighting places of historic interest in

Explorer Post 10-4 Elected New Officers

Mike Bilibrey was re-elected president of Explorer Post 10-4, a law enforcement specialty post sponsored by the Madison Lions club and the Police Department at a regular meeting last week in the Madison Police station.

Other officers elected were Jack Small, first vice-president; Vince Saputo, second vice-president; Bill Weidner, re-elected secretary; and Kevin Kearns, treasurer.

Listeners are invited to write for a program guide. The address is: Program Guide, WSIE-FM, Box 73, Southern Illinois University, Edwardsville 62025.

Originally interested in becoming an aeronautical engineer, Paladino planned to study at SIUE for two years and then transfer to an engineering school.

"However," he explained, "I needed four extra hours of credit during my sophomore year and took Continuity Writing for Radio and Television. The course was so stimulating I took another. All of a sudden I found myself majoring in mass communications."

He expects to receive his bachelor's degree from SIUE next June. His long-range ambition is to own his own radio station.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Paladino, 4033 Sara Avenue.

Steelworkers' Wages $7.08 in National Average

Domestic steel industry employment costs for wage earners climbed to a record $7.08 an hour during July, according to American Iron and Steel Institute.

July's figure does not include costs stemming from the pay increase granted steelworkers Aug. 1 as a result of the industry-wide labor contract negotiated last year.

During the month, domestic steel producers paid out $7.08 in wages and salaries—raising the total of such payments for the first seven months of 1972 to $2,317,111,000.

For the eighth month in a row, total steel industry employment also rose. It reached 491,051 persons in July—up from 489,094 during June. Since the beginning of the year, steel-makers have added nearly 45,000 employees to their payrolls.

Highlights of the Institute's steel industry employment report include:

Total employment costs per hour by hourly employees $7.08 in July, 1972, compared with $6.25 average for 1971. Costs of employee benefits included in the total (pensions, insurance, supplemental unemployment benefits, the non-payroll portion of savings and vacation plan costs and legally required payroll taxes) are partly estimated.

The data covers employees engaged in the production and marketing of steel and excludes mining and other non-steel employees in companies having such operations.

Aldermen Made No Road Plan Changes, City Told

Changes in plans for drive-ways and sidewalks in the proposed improvement of Buxton Avenue from St. Clair Avenue to Terminal Avenue were not made by aldermen of the two wards in which the project is located, but were revised by the city's motor fuel tax engineer because of varying grade lines, members of the Granite City Council were told last week.

William Boehm, a representative of the Research Planning & Design Associates, St. Louis engineering firm which served the city as MFT engineers prior to Jan. 1 this year, told the council that he was unaware of any influence by any of the aldermen so far as the planning changes were concerned.

City officials were notified two weeks ago by state highway engineers that action had been withheld on approval of the Buxton Avenue project because of changes in sidewalk, driveway and sodding arrangements which would result in a substantial increase in cost. Estimated cost of the project is $140,000.

In a letter to the city, John F. Kisor, district engineer of local roads and streets, said much of the work was recommended by ward aldermen and that the city therefore should pay additional costs resulting from the plan changes.

Kiwanis Offers Free Eye Examinations

"Save Our Eyesight," a project of the Kiwanis Club designed to offer area residents free eye examinations, will be conducted Nov. 4 at the Coolidge Junior High School cafeteria from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Final plans were completed for the community service program at a dinner meeting last week at Charlie's Restaurant.

Darrell Weible, president, appointed Joe Palovich to head the committee, and announced that Dr. Leo Roman, Granite City optometrist, will schedule the eye examinations with the assistance of a team of area doctors. The Granite City Jaycees also will aid the club members in the day-long project.

Eye examinations will be given to any person, free of charge, with no restrictions on age.

The members also agreed to sponsor a boys' bowling team that participates in the Youth Bowling League on Saturday mornings at Bowland Lanes. Guests attending were Richard and Thomas of Granite City and Duke Pearson of Tampa, Fla.

Johnson Road Plan Revision Authorized

Granite City Council members have authorized Research Planning & Design Associates, St. Louis engineering firm, to proceed with revision of plans for improvement of Johnson Road from Franklin Avenue to Porton Road to meet requirements of state engineers.

The Research Planning firm formerly served as the city's engineers for motor fuel tax projects and prepared the original plans for the Johnson Road project. State engineers with action notified the city that plans should be updated. The council at that time referred the matter to the M. W. Architects & Engineers, a St. Louis firm now handling Granite City MFT projects.

The council decided Tuesday night that the work should be handled by Research Planning since it had initiated the project. Kenneth Kieberger, president of the firm, was instructed to update the plans as soon as possible so the improvement of Johnson Road can be completed.

Another prestige building selects Electric Heat

Developers of Champaign Towers took a long look into the future when they planned this exciting office-apartment complex. Everything about this 13-story building is designed to stay modern for years to come. That includes the electric heating system.

The building is being erected on the corner of Randolph Street and Springfield Avenue in Champaign, Illinois. When completed, it will have 96 apartments, a restaurant, stores and floor observatory.

Electric heat was the natural choice for tenant comfort. It's clean, uniform and permits each tenant to control his own temperature.

For the developer, too, electric heat offers distinct advantages. Its simplicity means lower construction costs and more usable space. And its low maintenance cost brings important savings.

If you have any kind of building in the planning stage, plan it for electric heat. Call our office and ask our sales representative to work with you. He'll be glad to help you.

The Schermer Bulletin

Well another big sale last week, and results were terrific. Business was so good that Leo, who was supposed to be on vacation, tried to get out of town all week and never did make it. Things just kept coming up.

Life was also complicated by a trio of "sick chickens" missing from our checkout corps. Ada Conklin and Mary La Carroll have both been missing for some weeks with various ailments and Betty Struckoff entered the hospital and was added to the list. So if things seemed a little slow in the lobby we apologize. It was just one of those things.

We are just about out of the men's furnishings business. We still have a few of the pants, belts, and ties in each style but we are already out of some sizes. So if you haven't taken advantage of these fantastic values do so, when our current supply is gone, that will be all. One bit of produce news. Apples are currently at their best. We have beautiful new crop red and yellow delicious as well as Jonathans. Also featured are Kraft caramels with free sticks for "make your own" caramel apples at just 49 cents.

Many people have complimented us on our new discount drug program. It seems that we are "out-discounting" the discounters. This is what we like to hear and it makes all our efforts worth while. Anytime we can save our customers a few pennies we're all for it.

MR. AND MRS. JOSEPH A. WILLIS JR. They were married in an evening ceremony at Mitchell United Presbyterian Church. She is the former Miss Deborah Sue Duncan, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Duncan of Rural Route Two.

Deborah Duncan Becomes Mrs. Joseph Willis Jr.

Miss Deborah Sue Duncan, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Duncan of Rural Route Two and Joseph Willis Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Willis, 2425 Roney Drive, exchanged wedding vows on Sept. 23 at the Mitchell United Presbyterian Church.

A double ring ceremony was performed at 5 o'clock in the evening before an altar decorated with arrangements of white flowers. The Rev. William Reipschlag officiated.

Mr. Duncan escorted his daughter down the white carpeted aisle and gave her in marriage. She wore a white satin gown designed in an Empire style.

Delicate lace daisies edged the high Victorian collar and formed the wide cuffs of the long sleeves. Narrow rows of matching daisy trim accented the lower part of the long straight skirt.

She wore a full length mantilla veil of bridal illusion bordered with lace daisies and she carried a bouquet of white roses, pom poms and baby breath, festooned with long satin streamers.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Cathy Palmer, and bridesmaids, Miss Lynn Blankenship and Miss Kathy Weber, chose identical gowns created of apricot satin and an off-white lace overlay. The necklines and bodices were defined with old fashioned off-white lace and each attendant held a bouquet of flowers harmonizing with her gown.

Thomas Palmer Jr. served as best man, with Bernie Maxfield and Dale Culp as groomsmen.

Both mothers were attired in formal length dresses. Mrs. Duncan, mother of the bride, selected an aqua polyester track, fashioned with an Empire waist, A-line skirt and long sheer chiffon sleeves.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Willis, chose a dress of mint green chiffon over taffeta, enhanced with a Venise lace bodice, mandarin collar and long sleeves.

A rehearsal dinner was given the night before the ceremony at Petri's Cafe and the wedding reception was hosted at the Polish Hall in Madison.

Both young people are graduates of Granite City High School.

The former Miss Duncan is employed at Mercantile Bank, St. Louis. Her husband has completed training at a U.S. Navy radar school and is stationed in New London, Conn.

Interested parents are needed to serve as Webelos and den leaders or committee members in Cub Pack 96. It was announced last week by Cubmaster Martin Schroeder at a pack meeting at Maryville School.

Volunteers willing to assist with the boys are invited to contact Schroeder at home.

Den One, led by Mrs. Joanne Imboden, presented the opening ceremonies and the parents and cubs were welcomed by the pack officer.

Awards were given to Bruce Abbott, Jeff Hickman, Jeff Imboden and Robert McCleary, recruiter; Jeff Kelley, Tony Neely, Charles Shane, Bobcat; Bruce Abbott and Jerry Modrusic, wolf badge; Danny Shemwell, bear badge and webelos colors; Charles Thompson, webelos colors; Stan Laver and Arvin Schertz, webelos award and a 3-year pin.

Adults receiving honors were Mesdames Sandra Laver, 3-year pin; Pat Mullen, 5-year pin; and Donna Brandon, 6-year pin. Two-year pins went to John Schradler, Tom Pinkel, Roy Laver and Mrs. Marian Delozier.

John Nash and Jerry Modrusic were named winners in a "hog-calling" contest. The next meeting will take place Oct. 30.

Jo Ann Harris Married In Candlelight Setting

White gladioli and chrysanthemums arranged in tall vases, together with spiral candelabra holding lighted tapers on either side of the altar and hurricane lamps placed along the aisle, provided the setting for the evening wedding on Sept. 22 of Miss Jo Ann Harris and Robert Randall Sturdivant at Nameoki United Methodist Church.

The Rev. Roy Baugh, pastor of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, performed the double ring ceremony at 7:30 o'clock.

Preceding the arrival of the wedding party, Miss Christy Ashcraft, organist, played the themes of "Love Story" and "Romeo and Juliet" and "We've Only Just Begun."

Wearing an Empire style gown of peau de sole and delicate lace, featuring an unusual blue ribbon design, the former Miss Harris was escorted down the aisle by her father.

The exquisite trim of blue ribbon and lace edged the cuffs of the long sleeves and chapel train and the design was repeated on the front bodice.

She wore a camelot hat etched with pearls and crystals and trimmed in lace to secure her fingertip veil of bridal illusion and she carried a cascade bouquet of white daisies, baby breath and ivy.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Harris, 2313 Edison Ave. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sturdivant, 2817 Angela Drive. Miss Dinah Bradford, maid of honor, Miss Diane Dickson, bridesmaid and Miss Darla Sturdivant, a sister of the groom, junior bridesmaid, wore identically styled gowns in an Empire silhouette.

White lace defined the high rise waistline and marked the bodice and cuffs of the long sleeves. They were matching colored bows attached to brief rose tip veils.

The honor attendant chose pale pink chiffon and the maids were in blue and yellow chiffon. Each held a nosegay of daisies, carnations and baby breath in colors to match her dress.

Jacqueline Harris, a niece of the bride, flower girl, was attired in a white long frock trimmed in blue made in a similar design to the bridal gown. She carried a basket of daisies and carnations.

man was Randy Tolliver, Brad and Michael Harris, brothers of the bride, John Sturdivant, a cousin of the groom and Vernon (Buddy) Ryan completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

Guests were greeted at a reception held at Elks Lodge 1063 after the ceremony. Mrs. Michael Harris and Mrs. Brad Harris, sisters-in-law of the bride, presided over the guest book.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Harris chose a champagne beige chiffon gown fashioned with soft pleats and long sleeves and complemented with brown accessories. Her corsage was of bronze daisies.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Sturdivant, appeared in brown lace A-line dress designed with short sleeves and accented with gold accessories. She wore a corsage of daisies in autumn shades.

Mr. and Mrs. Sturdivant entertained the wedding party and family members at a rehearsal dinner in their home on the evening preceding the service.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Flo Gott of Morris City, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Warnock of Shreveport, La., and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bullard of Bosler City, La.

Emig-Odolich Nuptials At Belleville Church

Miss Camille Francine Odolich, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Odolich, 2247a Grand Ave., became the bride of Robert Lawrence Emig, son of Mrs. Kathleen Emig, 106 Delmar Ave., Belleville, in an early evening ceremony Saturday at St. Luke's Catholic Church, Belleville.

The Rev. Eugene Bungay officiated at the 6:30 o'clock double ring nuptials before an altar banked with pink and white floral arrangements.

Guests greeted the couple at a reception held at the Catholic Knights and Ladies of Illinois Country Club in Belleville, immediately following the service.

Organist, Miss Mary Kay Pritchett, accompanied Mrs. Kenneth Mueller as she sang, "Love Story," "Sunrise, Sunset," "Make of Our Hand," "People" and "On This Day."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected a white full length gown designed with a fitted bodice, high neckline and long sleeves, enhanced with lace trimmed cuffs.

The slightly full skirt extended into a chapel train and a wide ruffle formed the hemline. A cluster of fresh stephanotis secured her floor length veil and she held a cascade bouquet of pink roses and white orchids.

The maid of honor was Miss Cheryl Siegel and serving as matron of honor was Mrs. Thomas Schreier, a sister of the groom. Bridesmaids were Miss Rosemary Korba, a cousin of the bride, Mrs. Kenneth Emig, the groom's sister-in-law, Miss Kathleen Burch and Mrs. James Macke.

They wore identically designed chiffon dresses in A-line style featuring sleeveless bodices and scoop necklines. A wide ruffle trimmed the hemline of the formal length skirts.

To create a rainbow of colors, the honor attendants chose deep purple and rose, with the bridesmaids appearing in pink and orchid. Each girl carried a colonial bouquet of pink, rose and purple flowers, festooned with ribbons to match her frock.

The bridegroom chose Kenneth Emig, a brother, to serve as best man, James Emig, another brother, Thomas Schreier, a brother-in-law of the groom, Jerry Juenger, David Voegtle, Steven Clark, Michael Robinson, Donald Yopp and Bradley Schmidt, a cousin of the groom, completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

Both mothers wore floor length gowns. Mrs. Odolich was attired in aqua crepe, with a matching lace coat. Mrs. Emig appeared in moss green chiffon over taffeta. Both wore cymbidium orchid corsages.

Following a wedding trip to New Orleans and Jamaica, the newly married couple will reside in south St. Louis County.

She is employed at Ralston Purina Co., St. Louis, as an editor with the employees' magazine. The bride is listed in the "Who's Who" version of students in American colleges and universities.

Mr. Emig was graduated from Althoff Catholic High School and SIUE, where he also earned a bachelor of arts degree in mass communications. He works as a sports reporter for the Metro East Journal.

First Baptist Scene of Jones-Mason Wedding

The Rev. Ray Eitelman performed the 8 o'clock double ring ceremony.

Music was provided by Miss Karen Vargo, pianist, Jack Jenkins, organist, Jim Cochran, who played a clarinet solo, and Mrs. Sonya Adkerson, soloist. Selections included "Sunrise Sunset," "O Perfect Love," "Prelude in B Major," "The Wedding Prayer" and "Ave Maria."

Honor attendant was Miss

Mandy Mason, a sister of the bride, Miss Julie Marzful and Miss Linda Lear were bridesmaids. Another sister of the bride, Sarah Faye Mason, was the flower girl and Eric Vargo, the bride's cousin, was a ringbearer.

Attending the groom as best man was Greg Hamblin, Danny Wilson, a cousin of the groom, Gene Cunningham, Leonard Hansen, Scott and Marc Mason, brothers of the bride, completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white floor length gown fashioned with a fitted bodice and a very full skirt. Cuffs of the long sleeves and the high collar, were created of fragile lace.

Wide Venise lace edged the chapel length matinee veil of bridal illusion and she carried a nosegay of pink roses, "mums, pom poms and baby breath."

The attendants were attired in gowns made in similar style to the bride's dress in different colors. They were designed with modded bodices, round necklines and long sleeves.

The maid of honor was in lilac and the bridesmaids wore blue and yellow. Each girl complemented her frock with a wide brimmed picture hat and a nosegay of white pom poms, carnations and baby breath.

Plan for Regional Planning and Operating Government by St. Louis County Supervisor Roos Includes Taxing, Control by Missourians

St. Louis County Supervisor Lawrence Roos, a principal Illinois airport force who may be the next head of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council, has taken pains to say that he isn't really trying to set up a regional super-government dominated by St. Louis and St. Louis County.

He said so at a meeting of the Committee for Economic Development in St. Louis Sept. 7 and again at a Missouri-Illinois Task Force discussion Sept. 24. But some supplementary remarks he made on those and other occasions indicate that he is planning to create both a planning-and-operating entity with sweeping powers over the bi-state area, including Madison and St. Clair Counties.

The point is made clearly by Mr. Roos' "regional reform" proposal at the CED meeting:

"Viewed as a regional entity, the St. Louis metropolitan community is an administrative monstrosity.

"Our region lies in two states. Its 2.4 million people are served by 463 separate and independent governmental jurisdictions. We have eight counties varying in population from 18,000 to one million residents. Within these eight counties are 175 separate municipalities which range in size from less than 20 to more than 620,000 residents.

"Voting in this bewildering maze of government has been termed an electoral orgy. An informed voter must become knowledgeable of candidates and issues in municipalities, school districts, special districts, counties, Congressional and Senatorial races, state offices and national offices.

"Regional organization of the St. Louis area got its start in the mid-60s as a result of the Federal Highway Act of 1962 which made regional planning a pre-condition to local eligibility for federal funding. The East-West Coordinating Council was created as the first regional council for this region.

"That agency has served a constructive purpose in that it created for the first time a forum where leaders of local government could discuss regional problems. Yet, its principal weakness has been its total reliance on voluntary compliance for implementation of its plans.

"Furthermore, its ability to deal with the total gamut of regional problems has been frustrated as the result of the creation by Congress of numerous additional regional planning agencies which often duplicate and conflict with the activities of the Gateway Council.

"The time has come to establish a metropolitan agency in the St. Louis region, capable of consolidating the many presently existing metropolitan planning functions, capable of implementing plans and programs of regional functions which cannot be performed as efficiently or effectively by local units of government.

"In considering governmental reorganization such as I have proposed, important ancillary considerations must be explored. One is how more equitably to allocate voting representation among constituent governmental jurisdictions.

"I frequently voiced criticism of East-West Gateway Coordinating Council is its lack of conformity with the one-man, one-vote principle of representation.

"The organizational structure of any new regional agency should be based on a formula of proportionate representation which would meet the established guidelines of the federal courts while at the same time recognizing the interests of areas of special need and smaller units of government.

"Another matter of concern is how to provide sources of revenue to support the operations of the new agency. I believe that any viable regional agency, to effectively perform its responsibilities, must ultimately be given some sort of taxing authority.

"Realistically, however, in view of the difficulty of gaining public approval for any new taxing authority at this time when taxpayers feel overburdened by presently authorized taxes, I would suggest that a taxing authority for MIRAC—Missouri-Illinois Regional Area Council—should not be sought until the new agency has proven its worth and has gained the confidence of the citizens of our region."

"His point is to get its 'foot in the door' and then follow up with general taxing powers.

"Additional regional operating functions would be limited only by the Missouri and Illinois legislatures and Congress rather than by the affected public.

Growth Competition Leads to Blight, Poor Service, East-West Says in Urging 'Metropolitan Identity'

Should there be a full or even a partial 'regional super-government' for the bi-state area?

The East-West Gateway Coordinating Council last week summed up the case for regional controls in a statement it adopted as an official "guideline," entitled "Fragmentation of Authority and Responsibility."

There are 459 taxing bodies throughout the region and many authorities which enforce zoning, subdivision or building codes, or police and fire protection.

"The effects that planning and zoning on the local level can produce, if not coordinated with some regional approach, can be disastrous.

In many instances, communities or counties zone much more for their land for industrial, commercial or residential uses than they require.

When this occurs, these localities are competing with other regions and other parts of this region for new growth.

For the most part, this competition is integrally healthy. The results of this competition are shifts in activity patterns and a "musical chairs" effect.

Industries, businesses and families, as a result of unlimited and unbalanced growth, move from one place to another in the area, leaving behind abandoned buildings, unused water and sewer systems, roads, highways, schools and other objects which are not as mobile as the people and governmental institutions that use them.

This process, which can be documented very well by analyzing the small extent of growth that some parts of the region have had that has not been at the expense of the remainder of the region, is a major source of many of the region's problems.

Problems such as high taxes and unused, developed land in the city, inequality in schools, parks and other services, and urban blight can be traced to the effects of governmental fragmentation.

Another effect of fragmentation has to do with regional identity.

Sitting astride a major river, and encompassing two states, the St. Louis Metropolitan Region suffers from lack of regional identity.

Justifiably, inhabitants of the region consider themselves as part of a certain town, county or state. And few recognize the complex interrelationships that serve to economically and socially bind the metropolis together. There are, however, significant portions of the labor force from each county dependent upon the economy in the region for employment.

Also, such things as major airports or sports complexes draw people from the region, and their location and design should be considered a regional issue.

In addition, many problems of transport, water and sewer, or parks and open space do not draw people from the region, and neither should their solutions.

A strong commitment to regional planning and a truly areawide approach is required to begin solving some of the region's problems.

The FORUM

SERIES ON GERMANY WAS WELL DONE BUT UNKIND

To the Editor:

I read the three-article series on Germany with great interest. Being German myself traveling between the two countries quite frequently, and having relatives and friends "over there," I found most of his observations and statements to be accurate and well-related.

Just a few of his observations got my "dander" up, so to speak, since they tend to mislead persons whose only way to form an opinion about foreign countries and their people is by reading articles like these, or by listening to reports of some tourists who spent 3 or 4 weeks in Europe and think they "saw it all."

These people might get a somewhat distorted picture of certain aspects of life in Europe, or foreign countries, period.

"Take for instance the statement: 'German ideas about cleanliness are strikingly different from what Americans consider clean.' This could ignite a whole fireworks of discussion and controversy. All my German friends over here were outraged over this remark.

True, bed linen in most households are not changed every week, but that doesn't mean that German people sleep in dirty beds. You don't perspire in bed as you do over here—due to unheated bedrooms which are more healthful to sleep in—and, as he stated correctly, they are well-aired and dry.

Besides, they are mostly toasty on the sunny side of the house where bedding is aired for hours on a sunny balcony or window sill before beds are made and covered up.

Summers are cooler over here with a minimum of humidity. Houses are cool due to their construction, which makes air-conditioning quite unnecessary.

In addition, many problems of transport, water and sewer, or parks and open space do not draw people from the region, and neither should their solutions.

A strong commitment to regional planning and a truly areawide approach is required to begin solving some of the region's problems.

But this doesn't mean that people go dirty. Kids are taught from little on to scrub themselves from head to toe with plenty of water and soap.

Wash basins are, for that reason, much larger in size, quite different from our miniature sinks that allow just enough water for a face-wash in the morning.

Since the climate is, as I mentioned before, cooler and less humid in most parts of Germany, one perspires less and a daily sponge-bath is quite sufficient to be and feel clean—with a weekly "all-body-saturation" in the bathtub.

You could, if you wanted to, wear a white blouse shirt for several days without a "ring-around-the-collar" or perspiration odor.

I agree that the shaving of legs and underarms is necessary for good grooming and that this habit is not too cultivated in Germany, although I observed all my friends doing it.

I still wouldn't go so far as saying that "if an American is attracted to a young German girl it's because he's still looking at her from a distance." What an unkind remark.

Does that mean that the thousands of American servicemen (like my husband) never took close look at their prospective German spouse before marrying them?

Without seeming to sound prejudiced, I must say I have seen many attractive young girls over there, not only the necessarily well-groomed guides on the Olympic fields, and they were just as attractive from close-up as they were from a distance.

"Can we really point our finger at 'poor grooming habits' of people of other countries when touring churches or other public places in Europe where hair in curlers on the street is often so overwhelmingly big?"

Talking with my German friends over in Germany about Americans and asking their impression of them, I could often hear disapproval and astonishment over the habit of many American women in wearing hair in curlers on the street when one is obviously necessary, or going bare-legged when touring churches or other public places in Europe where a little more reverence would be in order.

But discussing all these things with my friends, I had to tell them the same that I have to tell the author now: You have to beware of generalizing, and you can't judge all the people of Germany by a few you happen to meet during a relative short period of time.

And you can't make statements about certain living habits and customs without explaining these things are the way they are.

You had me bad to spoil his otherwise interesting and well-written account of his stay in Germany with these few unkind remarks which were in my opinion in very poor taste.

STARTLED BY CONDUCT TOWARD MRS. MITCHELL
To the Editor:

Among events that arise and are discussed, some are quite startling. It is a grave situation when a woman is thrown to the floor, kicked her, tears her telephone from the wall and then rushes into her daughter's room and yanks her phone from the wall.

He proceeds to throw the woman on the ground, then he while a doctor gives her an injection in the upper thigh against her orders (this required removing her pants).

She hurts her hand in the scuffle, requiring six stitches. She is then kept in her hotel room for 24 hours without food. She is unable to contact her husband at any time during this period.

According to her quoted word, it was all because she tried to talk to a reporter about dirty politics.

This woman is none other than the wife of recently retired U.S. Attorney General John Mitchell. Her own treatment was allegedly by none other than the new, head security chief, J. Edgar Hoover.

King's promotion came soon after the President, Steve King.

McGOVERN FAVORABLE TO LABOR, CAN WIN
To the Editor:

It is wrong to believe that Senator McGovern has an unfavorable labor voting record.

According to the CIOPE committee on Political Education report card, he has been right 89% of the time.

Compare this with Nixon's 13% right (yes, 87% wrong) as a congressman and senator.

With this kind of performance and 3 1/2 years of "broken promises," are we in the labor movement going to stand idly by and do nothing about it? I think not.

I believe this is the reason 33 or more of the 116 international unions affiliated with the AFL-CIO, plus the UAW and a number of Teamsters' locals, have endorsed Senator McGovern.

A growing number of Steel workers' locals have also endorsed the senator.

The number 33 may not sound too impressive, but it represents a clear majority of all AFL-CIO membership.

With the trend changing and a little hard work, we in labor will be able to put a friend in the White House.

SPECIAL ELECTION POLL JUDGES STILL UNPAID
To the Editor:

As the 1972 Presidential election approaches and the radio, TV and newspaper coverage of the news is principally campaign speeches, etc., we who worked in the election polls are reminded of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District primary and runoff election for which we were never paid for our services.

These elections, held over a year ago, were authorized by the present governor of Illinois. Polling places were rented and election judges and workers were paid by the county clerk and township supervisors to serve in their various capacities.

Many letters were written as well as petitions signed by the judges and sent to the governor. He had one of his assistants refer the writer to his attorney, who either ignored the letter or had someone in his office write a letter saying the had been filed against the East Side Levee Board for the work.

Everyone knows how much good it will do to use this organization. And, anyway, why should the present governor, who is running for reelection, have an election to oust them out of office?

Since the present County Board, according to the media, has enough money to give everyone raises and pay the state's attorney, surely the state's attorney has enough authority to order them to allow and pay the 1971 East Side Levee and Sanitary District election bills.

Most of the County Board members have two or three jobs and don't need the money half

Gus and Ishmael Want Illinoisans To 'See Red' at the Polls Nov. 7

It seems a bit preposterous to me that the Communist Party of Spain apparently is going to have a place on ballots in this state Nov. 7.

Reds around the world are known to be dedicated to the subversion and armed overthrow of democracies like America. So, they cannot be treated as "just another political party."

But they have put together a slate of candidates, so readers may want to be "on their guard" and aware of the pre-election propaganda that is being disseminated.

We can be helpful in this regard because a use newspapers through the state have been flooded with the party's statements in recent days.

Would you believe that the Illinois group takes pains to print some of the wording in black but the key word "Communist" in red ink? It's a fact that not every stand taken by the group is necessarily wrong, even though some of the positions obviously are intended to drive wedges between Illinois voters and undermine their national loyalty.

The tactic seems to be to cast a viewpoint that has attracted some followers already, and then give it an added twist on that bitter wedge between citizens and officials might be generated.

A basic method of Communist propaganda in general is to "appeal to the working class" without bothering to tell Americans that they might be downgraded under either Soviet or Chinese brand of dictatorship—an iron fist that only pretends to give "power to the people."

In this state, the printed word that is being used by the Red Party is "Vote the workers' slate in '72.'"

Slogans on the front page of the Red Party include "End the war now," "Full employment," "End racism" and "Free all political prisoners."

Gus Hall, the Communist running for President, has this to say:

"On Inauguration Day I will order every U.S. soldier home from all over the world. I will abolish every member of the National Security Council as the Eisenhower administration was a criminal. I will cancel the military budget and spend the $120 billion for war on the people's needs."

Jarvis Tyler, Communist candidate for U.S. Vice-President, urges, "Spend $60 billion of the $200 billion not spent on the military budget on the special needs of black, Chicano, Puerto Rican, American Indian and Asian peoples, the victims of 400 years of racism and imperialism."

Most Illinoisans are trying to decide whether to reelect Richard B. Ogilvie as governor or to replace him with Daniel Walker. The former is a Republican, the latter is a Democrat and the latter is going to be won by one or the other of the two.

But the Reds favor Ishmael Flery for the governor's mansion. The Chicagoan pledges, "Not another son of Illinois shall be dragged away to die in a filthy imperialist war."

Theodore Pearson, running for state governor, says, "No family earning less than $15,000 shall pay taxes in Illinois."

Running for U.S. senator, Arnold F. Bechett comments, "I will fight for a $5 minimum hourly wage for a 30-hour work week for 40 hours' pay, to roll back prices and to close tax loopholes for the rich."

Linda R. Appelhans, running for attorney general, says, "I will end the terror in Cairo, I will end the racism and their accomplices in government will be prosecuted."

Debating whether to elect Michael Hewlett (D) or Edmund Kucharski (R) for Illinois secretary of state? The Reds prefer Frances Gabow, who is making a strong pitch to Spanish-speaking Americans. Her comment: "Every official document in Illinois shall be in English and Spanish."

The new post of state comptroller is sought by Nathan Sharpe, who promises, "Not a dollar of state money will line a graffer's pocket nor be stolen by the corporations when I am comptroller."

The innuendo technique comes through rather clearly in comments like those of Sharpe. He doesn't prove nor does he really say that unnamed corporations are stealing or that state money is going into "a graffer's pocket."

But he certainly tries to implant such thoughts, doesn't he?

Let us forget the three United States of Illinois trustee positions to be voted on, here are the Red candidates:

William R. Fugate: "Open admissions for all who want to go to school to any level."

Jack Kling: "Emergency programs to compensate minority groups for racial and ethnic oppression." Is he trying to imply something, do you think?

And John Robert Lumpkin: "Guarantee adequate cash living stipends to all students."

Some of it sounds deceptively attractive, like higher pay, lower prices, elimination of taxes and expansion of educational and other services.

But the Red platform is much more than impossible-to-fulfill promises. It scathingly denounces just about everybody and everything that come to mind.

Illinois Communists accuse the U.S. of waging "brutal, illegal war of aggression," with our leaders favoring murder and also spending for armaments. They say we have no money, welfare children go sick and hungry, cities and towns are crumbling and homes for working people are built.

I found no mention that if America totally disarmed, the U.S. would be a defenseless nation. The Reds might have a "solution" for their viciously distorted list of "U.S. problems."

Appeals are made to nearly all segments, including those of Italian, Jewish, Irish and Polish descent. This seems particularly offensive to me in view of Red policies toward Soviet Jews, Israeli and Poland.

The Reds accuse "big business" of doing what I think the Reds are trying to do: "Divide black and white and divide employed and unemployed."

Neither major party escapes scathing criticism, nor do key political figures. U.S. officials, state police are assailed for "cooperating with the Klan, Nazis and White Citizens Councils."

The Reds see a bipartisan conspiracy to reelect President Nixon, who is called "the ally of the big business war at the mayors' conference, State's Attorney Hanrahan's campaign for law and order, Governor Ogilvie leading Nixon's attack on welfare and Pucinski leading the drive against busing in Congress."

The party adds, "The proposals that George McGovern and the liberal wing of the Democratic party have been forced to put forward are at best a concession to the upsurge of the people."

The liberals themselves are closely tied to certain monopoly elements. While they would like to end the war in Indochina, their policy in the Middle East is no different from imperialists.

"And they leave plenty of room for support to colonial and neo-Fascist regimes in Europe, Africa, Asia and Latin America."

Being associated with a firm that I know is composed of fine people and worthy motives, I resent the easy generalizations, the distortions against "the corrupt business ruling class" and "the power and policies of monopoly capital."

What I will go along with is the concluding call for a world of "peace, economic security and social justice."

But, Gus and Ishmael and Arnold there are several ways of seeking such goals.

And there is more than one definition for such goals as "justice." You can keep "justice," Moscow-style—Gus. We don't want it.

As much as the workers.

I hope more of the election workers will write and give their views on the situation on the Republican side.

Couple Exchange Vows At St. Bartholomew's

Miss Beth Ledbetter, organist, played Ave Maria and The Wedding Song prior to the 7 o'clock double-ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Wilbur L. Lear.

Fashioned of tulle and white lace the Empire bodice was of lace and featured a Peter Pan collar and long lace sleeves terminating at the wrists with wide cuffs. Tiny covered buttons accented the front bodice.

She selected a white organza bow and lace petal headpiece to hold in place her shoulder-length veil of bridal illusion. Her bouquet was an arrangement of white carnations intermingled with baby breath.

Hudson's JEWELERS

Why is the bride carried over the threshold of her new home on her wedding day?

To go back to darkest antiquity, we find many different reasons. The Greeks of Pagan times thought that the demon originated with actual capture of brides from neighboring tribes.

Crude with superstition, he believed that the threshold was a place where the gods dwelt and that a bride must be carried over the threshold first by her husband or suffer the displeasure of the goddess.

Early German people believed that evil spirits inhabited the threshold and that Bride, especially with her husband, to carry the bride across the threshold on her wedding day, the Chinese often went up or have an old woman, relative of the Groom, to carry the bride across the threshold on her wedding day and in some areas of India, the Groom himself is first carried across the threshold and then lifts his bride across.

Hudson's, of course, recommends that the Groom shall carry his bride across the threshold on her wedding day to avoid hurting the feelings of a Roman goddess, or stirring up evil spirits or stepping on the heel of someone's ancestor, but most of all, Hudson's urges you to come by and let us help you plan your wedding from your first steps to your invitations, right down to your Reception. Hudson's. You will be thrilled at the wide selection of patterns in Sterling, China, and we will show you the many mixed and matched of a perfectly coordinated table-top.

POLLUTION VARIANCE

CITY OF GRANITE CITY has filed with the Environmental Protection Agency and Pollution Control Board a Petition for a Variance, Title IX of the Environmental Protection Act, for individual variances upon proof by the petitioner that compliance with specific regulations and/or Board Opinions would impose upon the petitioner an "arbitrary or unreasonable hardship." The petitioner alleges such a hardship, and seeks permission to extend the time period for filing "Operating Permits" with the EPA for a period of twelve months in violation of the September 1, 1972 deadline required by Pollution Control Board Regulations Section 103 (b) (2) (a) and (b).

The Environmental Protection Agency solicits the views of persons who might be adversely affected by the granting of the variance. Any comments or inquiries should be addressed to: Variance Section, Division of Air Pollution, Environmental Protection Agency, 2000 North Dearborn, Illinois 60616 (217/325-5811).

Groundbreaking Event

About 125 persons witnessed the groundbreaking ceremony Sunday afternoon for the new Niedringhaus United Methodist Church at 20th Street and Delmar Avenue.

Razing of the old building will begin this week by the contractor, M. H. Voigt, Inc. The new edifice, to be located on the same site in the heart of downtown Granite City, will cost about $38,000.

Target date for the opening service in the new facility is set for World Wide Communion Sunday, Oct. 7, 1973.

Taking part in the groundbreaking on the lawn in front of the church educational building were the Rev. John Henderson, district superintendent of the East St. Louis District of the United Methodist Church, who briefly addressed those present; the Rev. Roy L. Baugh, Niedringhaus pastor; and church officials and youth.

Following the liturgy text used in religious groundbreaking ceremonies, the first spadeful of earth was turned by Tommy Groshing, 11-year-old church member and partner in the church's new school building.

Others turning spadefuls of ground in sequence were Irvin State Jr., chairman of the church Council on Ministries; Charles Reimers, who turned the first spadeful of earth in the early 1950's prior to construction of Wesley Hall; John Lerch, Building Committee chairman; Glenn Wolfe, a church member and partner in the Wolfe construction firm; the Rev. Baugh and the Rev. Henderson.

Later many members of the congregation responded to an invitation to wield a spade at the groundbreaking, the minister said.
